CLARK JORDAN CROSSES RIVER

Former Proprietor of St. Asaph Hotel Passes Away Monday After Making His Peace With God.

News of the death of Edward Clark Jordan at an early hour Monday morning caused profound grief among the many friends he had made here since coming to Stanford about five years ago to assume the management of the St. Asaph Hotel.

For the past few weeks he had been gradually sinking, and realized in his lucid moments that the end was near and having made his peace with God was ready and willing to go. The coming of the Death Angel for his spirit must have been indeed a relief to his tortured frame, and it was with a gentle sigh that he passed over into that "Unknown Country," that bourn from whence no traveler has ever returned.

Mr. Jordan was a native of Mason county, Virginia, and was 47 years of age. He is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of Col. J. H. Daigh, of Waynesburg. For several years the deceased conducted the hotel at Waynesburg, but about five years ago he came to Stanford and bought the St. Asaph Hotel from the late C. C. Gooch. He conducted it until a few weeks ago when he leased it to B. D. Carter and Son, and then took rooms at the home of Walter Jones on Danville street, where his death occurred and from whence the funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A man of the most positive convictions, Mr. Jordan, was withal one of the kindest hearted and most charitably inclined, who ever engaged in a public business in Stanford. What he did of his means, for relief of the poor and distressed, was done without display or ostentation, however, and no one will probably ever know on this earth the extent of his generosity and the scope of his charity. But those who knew the man and his good works and generous deeds, feel sure that his name is written up there as one who often ministered unto "the least of these my children," and that his reward will be accordingly.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock by D. M. Walker, assisted by Revs. M. D. Early and P. L. Bruce, after which interment will be in Buffalo Springs cemetery. Stanford lodge, No. 156, I. O. O. F., of which deceased was a member, will conduct the beautiful funeral rites of the order over the grave of their departed brother. The pallbearers will be: Messrs. B. L. Fagaly, J. E. Jordan, F. C. Weick, B. D. Carter, T. J. Hill, Jr., and J. W. Acey.

Rev. R. R. Noel, the aged Baptist divine, who has boarded at the deceased's hotel for a number of years, saw him every day and knew him intimately, has written the following tribute to his memory:

In Memoriam.

Edward Clark Jordan was born July 2, 1869 in Mason county, Va., and died July 23, 1916. He leaves a wife and two brothers, two sisters and many friends to mourn his departure. Mr. Jordan moved from Waynesburg about five years ago and became proprietor of the St. Asaph Hotel in this city. As landlord he was a model. Upon the walls of his office were cards bearing in large letters, "Positively No Card Playing," a nicely bound Bible was in the rack over the commercial table. Mr. Jordan had never joined the church. Several years ago, Dr. Roddy assisted the writer in a meeting at Waynesburg. A large number were baptized, his father-in-law being one of them. His wife joined by letter. Mr. Jordan was deeply concerned. Time passed. About 12 days before his death, he took the writer by the hand and with joy accepted Jesus Christ as his savior. His hope like an anchor over and within the vale, seemed to be sure and steadfast. A few hours before death he cried whilst suffering: "Jesus come and help me."

We mourn, but not without hope. To his beloved wife, brothers and sisters we offer deepest sympathy.

Mr. Jordan was a member of Stanford lodge No. 156, I. O. O. F., also a member of the Macabees at Waynesburg. Dr. Walker was a great friend and favorite and will conduct services assisted by Dr. Early and Rev. Bruce. Burial in Buffalo Springs cemetery at 3 o'clock P. M., July 25, 1916. R. R. NOEL

LANCASTER COURT DAY

Three Candidates for Congress There, But Business Dull.

There was not much doing at Lancaster court Monday. The crowd was small and business was quiet. Farmers were too busy to leave home and many of the traders were not on hand from some cause. There was a bunch of mountain ewes on the market which sold at $7 and a few heifers that were bought at 6 1-2 cents, which was about the extent of the trading at the cattle pens. Quite a number of mules were on the square and several changed hands. They brought all the way from $120 to $182.50. Army horses were scarce and Louis Peel, of Nicholasville, and W. B. Burton picked up only a few, for which they paid around the $190 mark.

There were three of the four candidates for Congress present—Hon. Harvey Helm, Senator Charles F. Montgomery and Dr. R. L. Davison. Each did his share of hand-shaking and got just as close to the dear people as the hot weather would permit. They all seemed satisfied with their day's work, while the voters were delighted at the thought of the Congressional race being brought to a close in the next ten days or so.

A farmers' meeting was held at the court-house at 2 o'clock of which W. R. Cook was made chairman and R. L. Elkin secretary. The object was to discuss the feasibility of securing a farm demonstrator. A committee composed of Mr. Cook, J. H. Dalton and G. B. Swinebroad was appointed to look further into the matter and report next court day. Although not largely attended, the meeting was rather enthusiastic.

Lancaster

A farmers meeting was held here Monday afternoon at the Court House in the interest of securing a farm agent for Garrard county; a representative from the Agricultural Department at Washington, was in attendance and gave the Garrard grangers a full explanation of the duties of advantages of having a farm agent for the county.

The will of the late Mrs. Pattie Duncan Gill was probated before Judge C. A. Arnold Monday, the witnesses attesting to its validity being Mr. John M. Duncan and H. H. Grant. Her entire estate was left to her only child, Mrs. E. C. Banard, of Washington, D. C. The late residence of P. D. Gill, in the North Lancaster suburb, a typical old Kentucky homestead, has been on market for some time. It is the original Gill dwelling of an early period, and the commodious brick residence with the surrounding land of about 125 acres is a desirable piece of suburban property that has been announced as being worth as much as $200 per acre, as it fronts on the street and could be made available as fine building lots.

Garrard farmers have rushed up their threshing business in order that they might turn their attention to their tobacco and corn crops, many of them having already delivered their wheat to the local grain dealers. Some sold immediately at the threshing, and consequently previous to the rise in the price of the bread cereal, Messrs. Ed and N. B. Price having brought in to the Garrard Milling Company a 350-bushel consignment for which they were paid $1 per bushel; some later deals were the sale of 500 bushels by Walter Davidson who received $1.05 per bushel, 700 bushels delivered by T. C. Rankin and D. Rankin at $1.11 per bushel and 700 bushels grown by Mr. Holcomb of the Bryantsville section, at $1.15 per bushel.

BIG TIMES AT THE SPRINGS

Season On At Full Blast—Stanford Parties Motor Up for Bathing.

The season at famous old Crab Orchard Springs in the East End of this county is now on at full blast and the big hotel will hardly accommodate the guests who are pouring in from everywhere to drink the health-giving waters and to secure rest and recuperation.

Crab Orchard is being restored to its popularity of the ante-bellum days and right now there are families here from Georgia, Tennessee, W. Va., California and New Orleans, besides many from Cincinnati, Louisville and Central Kentucky towns.

The mineral waters that have made that section famous for more than a century, whet the appetite the more for the old country ham and friend chicken that are served each day and for the hot rolls and corn pone and the vegetables gathered from the garden.

A new tennis court is being constructed, and will prove very popular. One of the most popular diversions is bathing, and almost every afternoon the pool and lake are crowded with swimmers. Quite a number from Stanford have been forming bathing parties, motoring up to Crab Orchard in the afternoon and remaining for supper parties in the evenings. It is getting to be very popular.

Forty guests enjoyed a Virginia reel last Thursday night, and men and women who had not danced for thirty years "sachetted" to old-fashioned tunes, to the merriment of the many onlookers.

Mrs. A. L. Mountjoy, of Mt. Sterling, is a delightful entertainer and has the art of drawing together congenial spirits. She is being assisted by two lovely Richmond girls, Misses Marjanne Collins and Julia White. A colored orchestra is furnishing the music.

ANTHRAX IN WEST END

Governor Stanley last week appointed James A. Scott, republican leader of Pike county assistant secretary of state. Secretary of State J. P. Lewis, a republican, has the appointment of this office subject to the approval of the governor, and up to this time they had been unable to agree. It was finally agreed that Mr. Lewis should submit a list of republicans, to the governor, one of which the latter would approve. Among the list submitted by Lewis was the name of James F. Cummins, of Stanford, who was county clerk here a number of years ago, one of the few republicans who ever held office in this county. The list of republicans submitted to Stanley was: A. J. Sturgill, of Whitesburg; Geo. W. Long, of Louisville; J. L. McCoy, Jackson; Sherman Ball, Hardinsburg; J. A. Scott, of Pikeville; Robert Waddell, of Somerset; James F. Cummins, Stanford; George A. ## HARRODSBURG FAIR TOMORROW

Stanford Will Send Big Delegation to Harrodsburg—Everybody Boosting K. P. Fair Here

The country fair circuit in this section of the state begins at Harrodsburg this week, and as usual Lincoln county will send over a big delegation. The Harris & Woods string of mules will be on hand as usual and will get a big portion of the blues. Several high class colts from this county will probably be started at the Mercer county fair. Plans are being made by a great many to motor over to Harrodsburg. From talk heard, it appears that the largest delegations from this county may go over Thursday, the second day of the fair. It is expected that probably fifty automobile loads will go over from Lincoln county that day. The K. P. boys who are boosting Stanford's great fair with might and main will send over a big bunch to boost from start to finish for Stanford's great fair, August 23, 24 and 25. The same program will be carried out at the Danville fair next week. In fact, nothing is going to be left undone to let the world know that the greatest country fair in the state is going to be held at Stanford this year. Advertisement of the big Harrodsburg fair which begins tomorrow, Wednesday, is found on another page. A splendid premium list is offered and with good weather, it ought to be a great success.

A letter from Walter Briggs, of Powhatan Stock Farm, Pewee Valley, states that he intends bringing his splendid string of horses to the K. P. fair here—Aug. 23, 24, 25. Mr. Briggs won the $500 saddle stake here last year. He has many friends here who will be glad to see him again.

MISSSED INSURANCE AGENT

On Phone Call So Joe Will Rout Lost Heavily—Hoffman Had $1,000.

M. J. Hoffman, of Williamsburg, was here late last week en route to Moreland to see what was left of his large barn which was struck by lightning and completely destroyed by fire late last week. He took with him Jesse D. Wearan, local insurance man, in whose companies Mr. Hoffman carried $1,000 insurance on the structure. This, however, will not compensate him for the heavy loss sustained as he built the barn at a cost of about $2,000 and it was considered one of the finest in that part of the county if not the finest. The heaviest loser from the catastrophe, however was Joe Will Rout who had no insurance on the contents of the barn and lost about $1,000 worth of stuff, which he can ill afford to lose. It was irony of fate that Mr. Rout should suffer such a loss, for only the evening before the building and contents were destroyed, he had endeavored to get Mr. Wearan over the phone here to place insurance with him, but was unable to catch Mr. Wearan just at that time, and the next day the building and contents were destroyed.

DISTRICT GAME WARDEN BUSY

District Game Warden Sam J. Embury went to Mercer county Monday to look over the situation and see that the fish and game laws are being carefully observed. He will spend this week in Mercer and then cover Boyle and Casey counties, which with Lincoln, comprise his district. Mr. Embury has been giving special attention to violations of the fishing laws in this section and recently was up all night long endeavoring to catch some seiners who were suspected of violating the law. The new warden hopes for the active cooperation of everyone in protecting fish and game and is determined to do everything in his power to see that the laws are rigidly enforced.

BEE LICK MAN DEAD.

M. G. Reynolds, known to his many friends as "Bud," died at his home at Bee Lick a few days ago, aged 60. He was a brother of J. M. Reynolds, the well-known merchant of that place, and a brother-in-law of Josh Wilson, of the East End. He had suffered from heart trouble for years and had been an invalid for some time. A wife and nine children survive the good man. Since a youth he had been a member of the Christian church and his work in the master's vineyard covered a long period. The burial took place at Bethel church.

It takes cents to make dollars. It takes sense to keep dollars. This man knew enough to put seed in the ground, and it grew into a crop. Now he knows enough to put dollars in the bank and grow a fortune. He knows if he plants grain it grows; if he plants dollars they grow. But dollars don't fear weather conditions. Put YOUR money in OUR bank. We pay 3 per cent. interest.

Wilson is the Sole Issue This Year

Editor Harry Sommers, of the Elizabethtown News, who opposed state-wide prohibition last year but, will, we predict, be for its submission to a vote of the people, next year, gave some very good advice to all Democrats who are Dry in their views, in the last issue of his paper. He points out very cogently that the sole issue in the campaign this year is Woodrow Wilson, and nothing else and says the following, which the I. J. endorses to a T:

There is an effort in some quarters, on account of hostility to Gov. Stanley, to try to punish Wilson. Nothing could be more injurious to the party than to drag state politics into the national campaign. Wilson is in no way responsible for what happened in Frankfort and any attempt to hold him responsible would be the very worst kind of politics. The 125,000 "dry" Democrats in Kentucky could not injure their cause or cripple their future energies and opportunities in any more effectual way than by hitting Wilson with bricks thrown at Stanley. The "dry" Democratic voters of Kentucky believe in Wilson and his administration just as much as any other class of voters. They should rally to his support to a man from a true patriotic standpoint. They have no chance for office either in the state or the nation for the liquor interests control the state affairs and are most likely to dictate the Federal appointments if Wilson is re-elected. But the voter who is Democrat for office is a very poor kind of a Democrat. In the event Kentucky should be lost to Wilson the liquor oligarchy, which directs the campaign and controls everything in politics in Kentucky, would at once seek to escape the responsibility of their own mischievous and mistaken policy by laying the blame on the "dry" Democrats if they have anything upon which to base the argument or contention. We urge the "dry" Democrats not to give them the slightest grounds to complain of their loyalty to the party. If we lose it must not be our fault and if we win it must be with a united Democratic party. We want to be in the position next year to take from the liquor interests in Kentucky the control of the Democratic party in Kentucky and our hands will be strengthened for this great purpose by most loyal and unanimous support to Wilson this year. The "dry" Democrat who either sulks or stays away from the polls this fall is not only an enemy to Democracy, as splendidly illustrated in the magnificent administration of Woodrow Wilson, but he also does the "dry" cause in Kentucky more harm than good and makes more uncertain the defeat of the liquor interests next year. As far as the News is concerned we care absolutely nothing about patronage but everything about principles. We propose to give Wilson the very best support our intelligence and energies can bring for two reasons: because he stands for what we believe is the best interests of the country and, second, because it will strengthen our hands to unhorse the brewery interests in the control of Democratic politics in our state.

Each National Farm Loan Association must have at least 10 members, and it cannot begin business with less than $20,000 in loans applied for. It is illegal under severe penalties, for any officer, committeeman or member to accept any commission, fee or perquisite of any kind for granting any loan. The only paid officer is a Secretary-Treasurer. Money can be borrowed by this system in order to pay for agricultural land, equipment, fertilizers, live stock, buildings and improvements, or to discharge a prior mortgage.

The land bank may charge the borrowing farmer only 1 per cent more than the rate it gets on its bonds. This margin of one point is to cover expenses and profits.

Clark county is making great efforts to give the hosts of Democracy a magnificent welcome when they open the campaign there Sept. 9th. The Winchester boys, who are always on the job and up and doing, certainly put one over on Lexington when they grabbed the opening.

HOW FARMERS WILL BENEFIT BY THE RURAL CREDITS BILL.
Here is what a farmer who needs money can do under the Rural Credits Bill, which was signed by the President.

First, he must join what is to be known as a National Farm Loan Association, paying in $5 for one of its shares for each $100 he wishes to borrow. He has one vote a share, but not to exceed ten votes in all.

Next, he applies to the association note therefore, secured by a first mortgage on his farm. If the association approves the loan, it turns the note mortgage to a land bank. The land bank sends the amount of the loan to the association, which hands the money to the farmer. No commission, brokerage or rake-off is charged the borrower.

No single loan is to be for less than $100 or more than $10,000; nor less than five years or more than forty years. The loan must exceed 60 per cent; and preferably should not go beyond 50 per cent of the market value of the land covered by the mortgage.

The borrower pays, semi-annually, the interest on his note plus an installment of the principal. He must not be charged over 6 per cent interest.

Each National Farm Loan Association must have at least 10 members, and it cannot begin business with less than $20,000 in loans applied for.

It is illegal under severe penalties, for any officer, committeeman or member to accept any commission, fee or perquisite of any kind for granting any loan. The only paid officer is a Secretary-Treasurer.

Money can be borrowed by this system in order to pay for agricultural land, equipment, fertilizers, live stock, buildings and improvements, or to discharge a prior mortgage.

The land bank may charge the borrowing farmer only 1 per cent more than the rate it gets on its bonds. This margin of one point is to cover expenses and profits.

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

John Leer, of Millersburg, recently sold 37 head of fancy export cattle, averaging 1,550 pounds, to W. G. Leer, at around 10 cents, said to have been the top price paid in Bourbon this season for fat cattle. The stock will be delivered about August 1.

At Richmond, J. W. Wagers bought 60 head of 1,500 pound export cattle from Judge A. R. Burnam, at $9.25. Col. Harvey Chennault delivered about 65 exporters to Monte Fox, at a price said to be around $9.75 less 3 per cent.

John M. Cross, of Preachersville, sold a couple more of the fine young thoroughbred Aberdeen-Angus bulls which he has bred out of the stock he bought from Col. T. L. Carpenter, of the West End. S. H. Baughman and J. W. Baughman, of this city, each got a splendid young animal, paying $100 apiece for them.

C. C. McClure, the hustling Paint Lick trader, sold to Center Bros., a pair of five-year-old mare mules for $380 and a four-year-old mare mule for $160. He sold to R. J. McAlister, of the East End of Lincoln, 20 extra good ewes at $11 and to Luther Fish 51 ewes and lambs for $381.

W. R. Cook, of Garrard, bought of J. H. Dalton, also of that county, a six-year-old mare mule for $182.50. J. P. Ballard bought of Sam Acton a milk cow for $50 and sold to Frank Brooks, of Crab Orchard, three 600-pound heaves at 6c.

R. B. Woods has eight show mules in fine shape for the fair season and is preparing to start his campaign at the Harrodsburg fair which starts the season in this section, this week.

Paul Finch, proprietor of Drake's Creek Stock Farm, north of Preachersville, bought 15 head of springer hogs from A. Kiehl last week at 8 cents a pound. From the same farmer, Mr. Finch bought 10 head of mixed cattle, paying for the bunch $284.

E. R. Woods of Paint Lick, bought in upper Garrard two car loads of hogs at 8c and a car of heifers of different weights at 7c. He also shipped to Cincinnati Saturday a double deck of lambs for which he paid 8c.

W. B. Burton, of Lancaster, is feeding several carloads of mules, which he has bought in the last month or so. Some of them are of a very high class and for them he paid as high as $225. He bought several at Lancaster Monday around the $150 mark.

Mayor D. T. Matlack, of Winchester, has closed a deal with Mr. Hub Stevens of Clark, whereby he purchased five thoroughbred brood mares for about $1,000.
